WHO WE ARE

Seventynine Digital is a full-service South African ICT and creative solutions company, established in 2015 to empower organisations through intelligent, forward-thinking digital innovation. With roots in technology and a passion for design, we craft tailored solutions that combine strategy, creativity, and technical expertise.

From custom websites and scalable software to brand development, technical support, and infrastructure services—we provide digital tools that move businesses forward. Our team is made up of diverse professionals fluent in the language of technology, design, data, and user experience. In fact, you could say we speak Seventynine Digital—a unique combination of digital thinking, creative energy, and practical execution.

We don't just build digital products—we build digital partnerships. By aligning closely with our clients' needs, we deliver smart, sustainable solutions that add value, spark growth, and make a lasting impact. Whether you're a startup, government entity, or large organisation, Seventynine Digital is your trusted partner for digital excellence in an ever-evolving world.

Grow with practical innovation, strong technical support, and a commitment to real-world results.
